Float Showing State Resources Built for Queen

Will Be Taken to Many Points in New Mexico as Advertisement for Fair; Santa Fe Gives Free Transportation.

A novel publicity idea, and one calculated to express the cordial feeling which Albuquerque entertains for the other cities of the state, is the beautiful parade float which will be shipped to various points in the state to advertise the fair this year.

The float, which was first suggested by President Southern, typifies the progress and prosperity of New Mexico. Besides advertising the state fair it will serve the additional purpose of Queen's float at the state fair this fall. It will be welcomed at such events as the Cowboys' reunion at Las Vegas in the fourth of July, at the Pecos valley fair at Roswell, and the Baton fair, and perhaps at other celebrations in the state that will occur before the state fair dates, September 25-30.

The Santa Fe railroad, through the initiative of W. P. Cameron, has offered to transport the float free of charge from point to point as required by the fair association. It weighs about three tons and is mounted on wheels ready to go into a parade at any time. The higher parts are adjustable for traveling. It will be transported on a flat car.

Description of Throne.

The prevailing colors of the float, which is elaborately modeled in staff work, are white, rose, gold and silver. A high throne finished in rose, from which radiate gilded rays to an expanse of eight feet, is provided for the queen, who is to be robed in an elaborate gown of purple, gold and white. At her feet beside two huge golden cornucopias that rest by the throne steps, will be two maidens, clothed in Grecian gowns of rose, white and gold, to represent Progress and Prosperity.

From the ornate, roll forth abundant golden pumpkins and various fruits and vegetables, all gilded, of course. Sheafs of wheat, kafir corn, corn and milo maize form units of the decoration. The underfoot of a range steer and a wether suggest the livestock industry, magnets and ores represent mining resources, while from beneath the throne on each side a golden locomotive is seen emerging from a miniature tunnel.

Reclamation Has Place.

The rear of the float is as imposing as the front view, and discloses the modeled figure of a woman, almost life size, typifying Reclamation. On her arm is raised a golden rod, from which issue a silver stream, inundated at her feet by a miniature storage dam. Surmounting the back of the float is an adaptation of the state seal in low relief, bearing the words "The Land of Opportunity" and surrounded by golden rays.

Panel with the wording "State Fair, 1916" and the "Best Ever" surmounting the base of the float which is finished in silver and flitter and heavy brass frames.

The float will prove a sensation wherever it is shown. It has been a month in building and is being constructed by Elwood Albright, a local manager, who designed the float for the California celebration, which embraces several cities of the coast.

Mrs. Albright designed the elaborate costumes and banners which accompany the float. The materials were secured in Albuquerque.

WOMAN AT PALOMAS FINDS BABY IN YARD WHEN SHE AWAKES

When Mrs. Regida Jaramillo de Salazar, who lives at Las Palomas, a small village between Albuquerque and Old Town, awoke this morning, soon after she arose yesterday morning, she saw a little bundle of clothes on the ground. Mrs. Salazar began to unwrap the bundle and uncovered a tiny, new-born baby.

Mrs. Salazar reported finding the foundling to Under Sheriff Dick Lewis. Mrs. Salazar was unable to give the under sheriff even a shadow of a clue as to the parentage of the infant. There probably will be no investigation, anyhow, since Mrs. Salazar decided to keep the baby. She has no children. She told Under Sheriff Lewis she would have him baptized.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulberry cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One of two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulberry cocoon oil at most any drug store, in very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Hearing Begun On Wood Order To Show Cause

Part of Order Directing Attorney to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt Is Dropped.

The hearing on Judge H. E. Raynolds' order to Francis E. Wood to show cause why he should not be disbarred from practicing as an attorney in the Second judicial district, began yesterday before Judge Raymond. Arrangements were taken until 10 o'clock this morning, when it will be resumed.

Mr. Wood was directed in the same order, upon which the hearing is being held, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. This part of the order was dismissed, however, and the hearing came on only on that part of the order which directed Mr. Wood to show cause why he should not be disbarred in the Second judicial district.

Kononen & Wright, of Santa Fe, represent Mr. Wood in the hearing.

The prosecution is conducted by Francis C. Wilson, of Santa Fe, and Harry C. Miller, of El Paso, a committee appointed for that purpose.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN 'MICE AND MEN' PLAYING AT THE LYRIC

What Marguerite Clark lacks in stature she more than makes up for in charm and ability. The little Famous Players star has given many inimitable characterizations to the motion picture screen since her debut on the stage, among the more recent of which are Nesta in "Still Waters," and the dual title roles of the adaptation of Mark Twain's masterpiece, "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer," in which she proved that she could make a sturdy little boy when the occasion demanded, as well as the most exquisitely delightful little girls of all ages, for the presentation of which she has become famous.

Now Miss Clark has added to her accomplishments the role of Peggy in the adaptation of Madeline Lucette Tyley's celebrated play, "Mice and Men," which is the Paramount picture at the Lyric theater today and tomorrow.

With the name of Peggy are associated the performances of such distinguished actresses as Annie Russell and Lady Gertrude Forbes-Robertson, who presented the play in New York and London, respectively.

In order to invest the production with the proper southern atmosphere, inasmuch as the scene of the play is laid in the south, the Famous Players sent Miss Clark and a supporting cast to Savannah, Ga., under the direction of J. Searle Dawley. Here every phase of southern atmosphere is developed to perfection. In New York, the film man to catch an occasional view that will suggest the south, but there is no southern metropolis or suburb that will give the real southern flavor to the photoplay like one of the real old southern cities, such as Savannah.

HAWAIIANS TO PLAY AMERICAN AS WELL AS THEIR NATIVE MUSIC

Although the entertainment to be given by the Hawaiian Troubadours tomorrow night at the new Y. M. C. A. gymnasium has been heralded as "A Hawaiian Night," it will not be exclusively Hawaiian. The troubadours will play popular American music as well as Hawaiian. All of which, however, does not indicate that the term given to the entertainment is a misnomer. Since Uncle Sam's rules in Hawaii are more than probable, the American music may be heard of nights in Hawaii as well as the weird native melodies.

There are six persons in the troubadour troupe, five men and one girl, all natives of Uncle Sam's island possession. The Young Women's Christian association is bringing the troupe to Albuquerque, which, in itself, is a guarantee for the cleanliness of the entertainment.

EL PASO MAKES READY TO HOUSE 25,000 MEN OF NATIONAL GUARD

The chief of the information frontier were calm tonight. Some little excitement was caused by rumors that American and Mexican troops had again clashed between Carrizal and Villa Ahumada, but was allayed when both American and Mexican military authorities denied the reports.

What Educated Mexicans Think.
Discussion on both sides of the river centered on President Wilson's denials upon Carrizal. Mexican officials and Mexicans of the educated class said they did not believe there would be any objection to surrendering the American prisoners taken at Carrizal. This concession, they said, ought to satisfy American pride but they expressed fear it would not. In the Mexican view, the Carrizal fight is simply an object lesson as to the danger of letting the American troops come into contact with the Mexicans.

Garcia Blames Americans.
Andres Garcia, Mexican consul at El Paso, said today that "on Captain Storey's own statement, the Americans were the aggressors at Carrizal, as they not only disregarded the warning

CITY WILL ASK FOR BIDS AS NEXT STEP IN PAVING

Council Authorizes Clerk Tom Hughes to Advise, but Date for Opening Bids Is Not Fixed.

The next preliminary move in the paving of West Central avenue will be the city's advertising for bids. The council last night authorized City Clerk Tom Hughes to advertise. The date for the opening of bids is to be fixed later.

The council also accepted Acting City Engineer A. E. Hutchinson's estimate of the cost of the improvement and his specifications. The specifications provide for Trinidad asphalt, Bermuda asphalt, artificial asphalt or Tarmac for the wearing surface. As to the foundation upon which any one of those materials will be laid, the specifications provide for bids on concrete or macadam.

Preparing the way for further legal steps in the paving matter, the council passed, under suspension of the rules, ordinance No. 573, which City Attorney W. A. Keleher had prepared. This ordinance amends former city legislation in regard to street paving, bringing it into conformity with legislation enacted upon this subject by the last state legislature.

SCHWEIZER GETS AN ENGLISH COPY OF FRAY ALONSO'S MEMOIRS

Herman Schweizer, general manager of the Fred Harvey curio department, has an English translation of the "Memoirs of Fray Alonso de Benavides," translated from the original Spanish by Mrs. Edward E. Ayer. Mr. Ayer, her husband, sent the book to Mr. Schweizer, only 300 copies of the translation have been printed. Mr. Schweizer was informed.

The memoirs of Fray Alonso were in the form of a report, which treated largely of New Mexico, written by him in 1626. The commissary general of the Indies, the Franciscan order, presented the report to King Philip IV of Spain.
